WANT TO PLAY A GREAT GAME, BOY?

It's your pal, Beetlejuice™, here to bamboozle those bewitchers from the Neitherworld vacationing at lovely Lydia's place. This house is HAUNTED!

Flying cups and saucers and clothes that spring to life cause quite a panic...especially when they're coming for you! It's a horrific 5 level challenge to spook attic ghostlies, rattle angry skeletons and scare ghostly bats. Vampires may even join you for a "bite" to eat. Hmm... maybe we should skip lunch today.

These Neitherworld ghouls-o-ramas are no match for us. Has the "ghost with the most" ever let you down?!!

Graveyard Mix-up!

Neitherworld Pogonake!

Funny face scare-off!

Check out the

STAN'S SOAPBOX

Hi, Heroes!

Remember this date — October '91! It was one of the biggest, most important months in the halcyon history of mighty Marvel! What made it so important? Hey, I thought you'd never ask!

In previous Soapboxes I gave you a number of hints about big things happening out here in Hollywood, big things that I wasn't free to talk about until the contracts were signed and the deals were closed. Well, it's now official! The biggest movie project we've ever planned is now under way — and if you guessed SPIDER-MAN, then award yourself a twelve-cylinder no-prize with fuel injection!

But here's the most exciting part — guess who's gonna write, direct, and produce the first ever big-budget, feature film of the world's most famous wall-crawler? Wouldja believe James Cameron?!! That's right, Bunky, the same fabulous, super-fantastic filmmaker who bestowed upon a wildly cheering, wide-eyed world such monster hits as ALIENS, THE ABYSS and the two titanic TERMINATOR thrillers! So you can take this to the bank, Believer — SPIDER-MAN is destined to be the biggest, boldest, baaaaadest blockbuster bombshell of a super hero action extravaganza ever to hit the screen!

Now then, before you start bombarding us with letters and phone calls asking who's gonna star in our fabulous forthcoming flick, or who the villain will be, let me advise you that those decisions haven't yet been made. First, the story has to be structured and then a screenplay written. That will probably take months because we're determined to make it the greatest action thriller of all. But as soon as more info comes through, even faster than you can wiggle your webs you'll get the scoop via the ol' Soapbox column as well as in the various newsletters we'll be sending to all the Wild Agents of Marvel!

And next issue, on this very same page, if Irving Forbush doesn't elope with Aunt May in the next thirty days, I'll bring you some additional exciting news about X-MEN hitting the screen! Who says this isn't the Marvel Age of Awesome Announcements?!!

Excelsior!

Stan Lee

FOR THE NEXT NINE PARAGRAPHS, WE WILL BE CONDUCTING A TEST OF THE EMERGENCY BULLPEN SYSTEM. THIS IS ONLY A TEST. ALL YOU WILL NEED IS AN INSATIABLE, ALL-CONSUMING, ALMOST OBSESSIVE CURIOSITY ABOUT ALL THINGS MARVEL. READY ... BEGIN!

February is the shortest month, so that means we'll make this column as short as possible, and try to write it in the shortest amount of time. Actually, this is a leap year — does that mean we should skip over the page this month? (The preceding joke sponsored by the One Bad Joke Per Bullpen Page Committee.)

Some new faces have appeared on staff since our last column, and most have had bodies to go along with them, as Marvel is not in the habit of hiring detached faces. (Except over in the HELLRAISER office, where they encourage that kind of thing.) New to the editorial staff are Hildy Mesnik, who will be taking over G.I. JOE and the BARBIE titles. (Does this mean G.I. Joe will finally get to ask out Barbie?) Hildy won the assignment over many of our male editors, who were eager to play with Barbie, even if only twice a month.

Assisting Hildy is Kevin Kobasic — a natural choice, as he was previously assistant to Don Daley on the PUNISHER books. Kevin brings to the BARBIE titles his experience working with hard-nosed characters (relax, Don, we're not talking about you), and perhaps can give BARBIE that edge she needs to succeed in today's competitive comics field. Replacing Kev in Don's office is Tim Tuohy, formerly Don's college intern.

Also moving up in the world, like three-day old cream in a cup of coffee, is MARVEL AGE MAGAZINE assistant editor, Mike Lackey. Mike is now a full-fledged staff member. Mike was only half-fledged before, so now the rest of us can stop staring and pointing. Mike is also the writer of the new WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP WRESTLING comic which debuts this month, and claims his dream is to have the WCW champion hit him over the head with a steel chair. Keep dreaming, Mike. It'll happen someday.

Our own dream is to make it all the way to the end of the new Spider-Man arcade game from Sega! The game is a lot of fun, pitting Spider-Man, the Black Cat, and the Sub-Mariner against many of Spidey's deadliest foes, including the Hobgoblin, the Scorpion, and Venom. (Watch out for Venom — he cheats!) Also out now in arcades everywhere is a Captain America and the Avengers game, featuring not only Cap, but also Iron Man, the Vision, and Hawkeye against some of their greatest antagonists, such as the Mandarin and the Red Skull. Both games feature state of the art graphics, and are great for improving your eye-hand coordination, in case you want to become test pilots some day!

But don't spend your last quarter yet — coming your way real soon is the all-new X-Men arcade game from Konami. The X-Men game promises to be our best game yet, featuring all your favorite merry mixed-up mutants clashing and cavorting in all their glory. You also won't want to miss the Wolverine vs. Magneto hand-held game in the works, and it'll be out later this year. It's the most fun you can have without losing an eye!

And using our collective one good eye, let's look back at the Marvel Halloween party from last year. As we write these words, our teeth are still stained with Halloween candy from the big Marvel Halloween bash, which we, being traditional Marvel Zombies, like to hold once a year. The highlight of the bash is, as always, our wacky Marvellympics, in which all your favorite Marveloids go at it, tooth and claw.

The big winner this year was SHIELD inker Don Hudson, who was the loudest screamer, and stuffed the most candy corn in his mouth. Don was defeated, however, in the big musical chairs competition by Epic assistant editor Tom Daning. Noted Tom, "I've got the fastest cheeks in the west!" Tom's boss Marcus McLaurin also scored a victory in the "draw a caricature of a fellow employee" contest. Marc drew Jim Salicrup, which is actually not as hard as it looks.

Best costumes at the party included NOMAD editor Glenn Herdling's Venom, and Glenn's assistant Pat Garrahy as Terminator 2. Assistant Editor Evan Skolnick came as DEATHLOK-editor Tom Brevoort, and no one could tell them apart! Even though it's only February, it's still not too early to start thinking about this year's Halloween bash. After all, February is the shortest month ...

THIS CONCLUDES OUR TEST OF THE EMERGENCY BULLPEN PAGE SYSTEM. THIS WAS ONLY A TEST. HAD THIS BEEN AN ACTUAL EMERGENCY, YOUR SPIDER-SENSE WOULD HAVE STARTED TINGLING, YOUR PULSE WOULD HAVE STARTED POUNDING, AND YOU WOULD HAVE BEEN COMPELLED TO SING THE THEME SONG FOR WAM, THE NEW MARVEL FAN CLUB!

Hey, Bill & Ted!

WRITE TO: HEY, BILL & TED! c/o
MARVEL ENTERTAINMENT GROUP
387 PARK AVE. S. NY, NY 10016

Welcome, excellent readers, to another pretty funny and possibly informative BILL & TED letters page!

This month's guest letter-chooser and analyst is none other than our awesome psyche friend Dr. Sigmund Freud, straight from 1901 Viennal We, the editors, are hoping that Dr. Freud—or "Siggy" as he prefers to be called—will be able to give us valuable insight into the psychological profile of our readership.

So take it away, Siggy!

Thank you. Our first letter begins...

Dear Bill & Ted Dudes,

I am most pleased with the way that you draw Bill & Ted. They are my idols, and you portray them the way they ought to be drawn.

But I think a most excellent storyline would be this—okay, so, Bill & Ted take Joanna & Elizabeth to a romantic getaway in medieval England, during the time of Henry VIII. King Henry captures Elizabeth & Joanna, but they never produce a son. So King Henry plans to kill them, and Bill & Ted have to save them.

Now for a few questions:

1. Why is Missy attracted to men twenty years older than her?
2. Why did you put baby Bill in the corner box of Issue #2?
3. Who is Time Thumb, and where does he come from?

Zac Berschy
10151 W. Picture Rocks Road
Tucson, AZ 85743

The patient is obviously an exceedingly curious and enthusiastic sort, with underlying repressed sexual anxiety of an under-terminated nature.

The question regarding Missy's Father Figure complex is most revealing, as is the reference to a baby being confined in a box. Further analysis is indicated for this patient.

Dear BILL & TED,

Can you send me a picture of you guys? If you can't, that's okay. I like your comics and your movies. My favorite thing about you guys is when you play a guitar noise without a guitar. Well, party on, dudes.

Anthony Burke
8003 Robin NE
Albuquerque, NM 87110

The patient is outwardly congenial and innocent, yet betrays a deep-rooted denial of reality (i.e. writing to fictional characters, imagining musical instruments that aren't there, etc.) Further analysis is indicated for this patient.

Yo Dudes,

When I first saw BILL & TED's EXCELLENT COMIC BOOK on the stands, I thought to myself, "Holy *@%& How dumb can you get!"

Boy, was I WRONG!

I bought it just for the money ($$$) value it may have. But then I read it. It's the best comic book I've ever read in my life!

Even with Marvel going up to $1.25 a comic (MOST BOGUS), I still have something to look forward to every month. I hope this one is around until the day Death knocks on my door! Keep up the awesome work! Later, dudes!

John "Elmo" Gafney
3004 Dove Street
Rolling Meadows IL 60008

The patient is obsessed with monetary concerns. Note the numerous references to money and value of various things...further analysis of this patient—and his bank statements—is indicated.

BILL & TED

HEY BOGUS DUDES WHAT YA UP TO ME NOTHING. WELL I JUST BOUGHT YOUR FIRST ISSUE COMIC AND I REALLY THOUGHT IT WAS REALLY AWESOME BECAUSE THE TELEPHONE BOOTH GOT DESTROYED HOW ARE YA GONNA GET BACK WELL I'M NOT A COMIC FAN UNTIL SATURDAY THE SEVENTH AND I REALLY APPRECIATE THE EXCELLENT TIME YA PUT IN IT. BECAUSE I AM REALLY GLAD TO BUY YOUR FIRST ISSUE BEFORE THEY WERE GONE THE NEXT DAY. WELL EXCELLENT DUDES IS RUFUS REALLY ALIVE OR IS HE DEAD. I KNOW IT'S A STUPID QUESTION BECAUSE I NEVER UNDERSTOOD IN YOUR FIRST MOVIE WHERE YALL GO TO THIS WEIRD PLACE WHERE UGLY PEOPLE COME OUT. WELL DUDES HOW DO YOU SAY (ROYAL UGLY DUDES) WELL I GOT TO GO NOW.

Mike "Spanky" McLeod

I...I...I'm stymied. I'm sorry. Next patient...

Excellent BILL & TED!
Sweet comic most funny!
Keep writing!

Shannon Cotton
P.O. Box 173
Altamont, NY 12009

Bill...Ted...I fear this is not going to work. I will try to analyze one more patient.

Hey BILL & TED,

I most deeply relate to your non-non-heinous giggling in the third issue of your EXCELLENT COMIC BOOK. A band I was in once did a gig on Football World Cup Final night. We played to three men and a dog. But, like, the dog digged us totally, yknow? He was wagging his tail! Non-bogus, but totally fer sure!

David West

Where to begin? I am confident the patient must have, shall we say, animal-loving tendencies. The extent of this problem can only be determined through extensive analysis of the patient, his mother, and any pets he may, ah, have.

NEXT MONTH:

Things are heinous enough, what with Bill & Ted being brought to trial by the Chronological Order for time-tampering, right?

The last thing anyone needs at this point is the bogus return of Bill & Ted's most egregiously foul arch-enemy: DENOMOLOSI! Most unexcellent timing, evil dude!

And timing is everything, as you'll see next month in "Having a Bogus Time, Wish You Were Here!"
